SULZER TRIAL DRAGS ALONG

Governor's Enemies Say He Will be Prosecuted on Perjury Charge.

PRISON IS YAWNING.

Members of Departments Are Likely to Wear Stripes as Result of Exposures.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 29.—That the inevitable result of the Sulzer impeachment must be prison terms for some one was the declaration that came from both sides today.

The enemies of the Governor declaring that they were sure to convict him of the offenses alleged against him, insist that as soon as he is stripped of his present powers he will be prosecuted for perjury.

Sulzer's friends maintain that before they are through they will have some very important personages in stripes. The governor, they say, on the stand, will tell a story of amazing graft in certain state departments. He will also, they insist, lay bare the conspiracy to discredit him. Both sides declared that when the Albany county grand jury meets a week from today, it will start an inquiry both broad and deep.

Both sides predicted teoday that the end of the trial will soon be in sight.

THIS WEEK'S HOLIDAYS.

Month of Festivals Begins Wednesday in the Jewish Synagogue

Beginning next Wednesday and continuing until Thursday, October 23, Jewish residents will celebrate a series of holy days, for which preparation has been going on for several weeks. The big autumn festival will be ushered in with Rosh Hashanah, the first day of Tishri, the seventh month, the Jewish New Year, which corresponds with October 2 in the present calendar. The observance of the feast will begin at sunset of the day previous. It marks the beginning of the year 5674 in the Jewish calendar.

Rosh Hashonah is the first of the solemn days, and is a reminder of a new life to follow the spiritual self-searching it inaugurates at the begining of a new year. The holiday is kept for two days by Orthodox Jews. Reform Jews celebrate only the first day.

The Sabbath following Rosh Hashanah is known as Sabbath Shuvah. Special penetential prayers are offered in most synagogues on that day in preparation of Yom Kippur, the most solemn day in the Jewish calendar. Kol Nidre, the eve of Yom Kippur, comes Friday, October 10, when it is observed in the synagogues.

Yom Kippur, the great day of atonement, comes on the 10th of Tishri ,or October 11, in the Gregorian calendar. Ten days of penitence culminate in Yom Kippur, when from sundown to sundown nothing is eaten or drunk, and the waking hours are spent in prayer of contrition. The 10 days of penitence last from Rosh Hashanah to Yom Kippur,and special prayers are included in the daily prayers during that period.

Succoth, the Feast of the Tabernacle, starts at sunset, October 15th, and inaugurates a joyous season lasting eight days. Succoth is celebrated in commemoration of the dwelling by the Jews in booths or tents in the wilderness for 40 years while enroute from Egypt to Canaan.

The feature of the celebration of Ssuccoth is erection of leafy booths, often of large proportions and beautifully decorated with fruits, flowers, and grain. Atzereth, the day of solemn assembly, on the 22nd of Tishri, closes the autumn festivals.

Rev. Mr. Cohen, of Baltimore, will conduct the services in the Washington street synagogue in this city.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

General Chang Hsun, the commander of the Chinese troops at Nanking, accompanied by a bodyguard of fifty cavalry, went to the Japanese consulate yesterday morning and apologized in accordance with the Japanese demands in connection with the killing of several Japanese and an insult offered to the Japanese flag. The consul expressed his satisfaction at the action of the Chinese commander. The Japanese legation at Peking, emphatically denied that an ultimatum had been sent by the Japanese government to China.

When warned to cease annoying a woman sitting near him in a Second avenue, New York elevated railroad train last night, an unidentified foreigner became infuriated at the interference of Sergt. Joseph McEanery and Patrolman William J. Deenen, and drawing a knife stabbed both officers. McEanery probably will die. Deenen was less seriously wounded, and was able to grapple with his assailant until help arrived, and the man was made a prisoner.

Charles S. Bonney, William Goss, and Spencer Abell, all of Beverly, Mass., were drowned early yesterday when their motorboat was sunk by the fishing schooner Knodora. The party left Beverly Saturday evening for a fishing trip off Cape Ann. They were at anchor when the collision occurred, a heavy list screening their craft from the view of the schooner's helmsman.

The baseball game yesterday at Midland between Cumberland and Midland, Md., in the Georges Creek League, was marked by a series of disturbances, and the 2,500 spectators were in frequent mix-ups, in which women proved to be even more aggressive than men. Until today Cumberland led the league in the race for the pennant. Frostburg played Piedmont yesterday and won, while Cumberland lost to Midland, giving Frostburg first place. Two women belabored one another for nearly half an hour, and men were unable to separate them. They scratched each other, and used handbags as weapons. Four separate fights occurred in the grand stand.

The condition of Pope Pius X is giving rise to some anxiety. Although not suffering from any specific malady, the state of his health is unsatisfactory. According to a dispatch from London, the Pope has granted no audiences for three days. Yesterday he kept to his bed through the day. He is suffering from great weakness.

"I had rather have my daughter chained by the neck for the rest of her life than to be like some girls I know in Augusta," said J. J. Johnson, a butcher, when discovered beating the girl while she was chained to a vise in his meat shop in Augusta, Ga. Johnson pleaded that he was whipping his daughter for disobedience. An officer was attracted to the shop by the cries of the girl. He found Johnson whipping his daughter with a buggy whip while the girl was thus chained. The chain circled the girl's neck. Johnson was arrested.

Everett A. Rexroat, son of a Macomb, Ill., farmer, was named in a warrant issued in Chicago last Saturday night as the murderer of his wife, Mrs. Mildred Allison Rexroat, a Chicago dancing teacher, who Saturday was shot to death near Wheaton, Ill. Her body was found between the tracks of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railroad.

Three children were burned to death and their mother perhaps fatally burned, while trytag to save them, during a fire that destroyed the home of Mrs. Jesse Alumbaugh, on a farm rear Wellington, Kansas, early yesterday. To rescue the three younger children, Mrs. Alumbaugh ascended a short ladder, and attempted to reach them through a window. The flames enwrapped her, however, and she was forced to retreat, after receiving burns that may cause her death.

WILL CONTEST TAX PLAN.

Alexandria Will Join Richmond And Other Cities in War on New System.

Alexandria will be called upon by Richmond, and other cities in the State to join an attack on the act of the legislature which takes practically all of the taxes on the rolling stock of the railways in the State from the cities where the railroads have their principal officers and apportions it among the counties through which the railways traverse.

Alexandria, which now receives all of the taxes amounting to more than $4,000 a year on the rolling stock of the Washington-Southern railway, will lose practically all of this amount after this year by reason of the new law. Other cities, however, will lose in far greater proportion.

The new law provides that the first 25 per cent of the total amount of taxes shall go to the city and that the whole amount of the rolling stock shall be taxed at the same rate as the first 25 per cent. This is held by those opposed to the plan as unconstitutional, as it is construed, as an unwarranted restriction on the cities' and counties' right to fix the rate of taxation in their own communities.

As several million dollars per annum is involved it is thought that a long legal battle of the constitutionality of the act will be fought out.

Bullet Lodged in Head.

Richmond, Sept. 29.—Police are still looking for Charles Herman, the negro who made a get away Friday night after being chased for some distance by Patrolman Bertucci. Herman is wanted on a charge of vagrancy.

ANNIVERSARY OF TORNADO.

Seventeen Years Ago Wind Caused Terror in Alexandria.

On Thursday night, September 29, 1896, Aeolus turned his bag upon Alexandria and vicinity, and within a short space of time some buildings had been demolished, many unroofed and otherwise damaged, two persons killed and fences, poles, and wires were lying prostrate in the streets.

The terrible blow of Wednesday, the 30th of July, 1913, the recollection of which is still fresh in the minds of all Alexandrians, will also long be remembered. While death did not follow in the wake of this year's disturbance, great damage was done throughout the city.

ROW SATURDAY NIGHT.

Colored Woman Seriously Injured—Man Cut on Commerce Street.

Cecil Thomas, a colored woman, was taken to the Alexandria Hospital early yesterday morning while suffering from a serious cut on the head. Jack Washington, colored, had been arrested in connection with the affair on complaint of the woman. The latter was unable to appear in the Police Court this morning, and the case was continued.

According to a statement made by the woman, she entered a saloon in the southwestern section of the city Saturday night when she met Washington, who asked her to pay for a drink for him. She complied and probably drank more liquor. She avers that after leaving the saloon she was assaulted and over six dollars, which she had in her stocking, which she found had been split open, taken.

The woman was found on a doorstep unconscious from the blow she had received, and upon being roused she managed to get to the station house where she had a warrant issued for Washington.

The woman being under the influence of liquor, she was detained as a witness against Washington, but was later released and upon returning to the residence at which she is employed as a cook, it was deemed expedient to take her to the hospital.

It is claimed by some persons who alleged that they are familiar with circumstances in connection with the the case that the woman, being drunk, fell and injured herself.

Ernest Clark, colored, seriously cut John Pines, colored, on Commerce street Saturday night. A warrant was issued for Clark's arrest, but he is supposed to have left the city.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

COMPANY LEAVES INSURANCE FIELD

Virginia Transfers Its Business to the German-American Co.

COMPANY ALL RIGHT.

Official Statement Says it Was Decided to Retire Now While Business is Good.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 29. — Announcement was made yesterday by the Virginia State Insurance Company that it had decided to retire from the insurance field, and that the business and good will had been assumed and taken over by the German American of New York. The papers were signed at noon on Saturday, though official notice to that effect was not issued until last night.

In a statement given out by the company, attention is called to the fact that it is not retiring because of insolvency or lack of business, for, on the contrary, "it is doing a good business, has a clean lot of assets, amply sufficient to pay all its debts and liabilities of every sort, and, it is believed, ample also to pay its tockholders in full the par valu e of their stock, including the premium and cumulative dividends due on the preferred stock."

After giving the matter careful study, the board of directors deemed it wise to retire now while the company was in that condition, "rather than incur the hazards of continuing longer in the face of the sharp competition with large companies, increasing fire losses and taxes, and inimicial legislation, growing more and more burdensome and vexatious from year to year."

There has been no criticism of the management, directors and stockholders agreeing that the business has been conducted most creditably and with due regard to the interest of policy-holders and owners.

Aside from the formal statement issued by the company no details were given as to the time required for liquidation of its affairs. The main consideration relating to the safe and proper transfer of policies, while the high standing of the German American Company and the prompt manner in which negotiations were concluded prove unquestionably that this action on the part of the Virginia State Insurance Company will be approved by the policyholders.

BERBERICH ANNIVERSARY.

Unique Free Distribution of Souvenirs to all Purchasers During This Week.

Probably the most elaborate preparations for a big week's business ever made by any Washington firm have just been completed by Robert Berberich's Sons, the shoe merchants, who celebrate their forty-fifth business anniversary this week.

Through the cooperation of the manufacturers of such well-known lines of footwear as Patrician and La France shoes for women and Burrojaps and Steadfast shoes for men, this concern is enabled to distribute as anniversary souvenirs with every purchase of these famous shoes two 1-pound boxes of old-fashioned chocolate candies and a bouquet of roses to all lady customers and a box of twenty-five 10-cent cigars or a pair of fine kid gloves to all men customers.

Starting back in 1868, Robert Berberich's Sons have been continuously in store business in Washington, catering to every demand made upon it for footwear for men, women and children. Through conscientious and untiring effort to sell only such merchandise as could be absolutely guaranteed, this firm has grown to such proportions that it now enjoys as large a patronage as any shoe establishment in the entire South.

The Berberich stores, 1116 to 1122 Seventh street northwest, and 813 Pennsylvania avenue, northwest, will be in holiday dress to welcome all visitors and customers during anniversary week.

STEAMER MOHAWK STRIKES A ROCK

Wild Rush of Passengers to Decks to Secure Life Belts.

HURLED FROM BERTHS

One Man Leaps Overboard From Fright—Steamer Remains Aground For Five Hours.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Three hundred passengers were thrown into a panic when the steamer Mokawk New York to Albany, went aground on a big rock near here early today. Passengers were thrown from their berths and rushed to the decks half clad after the big steamer struck. Charles S. Kelly, New York, was badly cut when thrown to the floor of his state-room. Others were badly shaken up but there was no loss of life.

The Mohawk was aground for four hours before the Iroquoise, a sister ship of the Manhattan Navigation Company, came alongside and took off the passengers. The transfer was made without mishap.

Only hard work by members of the crew and men passengers averted serious trouble when the boat struck. There was a wild rush for life belts and some who insisted were lowered in boats. One man jumped overboard and was rescued with difficulty. Repeated assurances that the boat was in no danger, shouted through the megaphone finally quieted the passengers.

It was 3 o'clock this morning when the Iroquoise came alongside and took off the panic-stricken passengers. In the darkness men, women and children were frantic with fright. H. Winetraub, of 1223 Boston road, the Bronx, declared on arriving here:

"The Mohawk hit the rocks with tremendous force. She seemed to shoot forward on the rocks about 18 feet and then came sliding back with a terrible grinding noise. Men and women, some of them carrying screaming children, came running to the decks. Pandemonium reigned. Women dropped on their knees and began to pray. Others fainted. Members of the crew began to lower boats and there was a rush to get aboard. Then came an order countermanding the lowering of the boats. The officers shouted that there was no danger. A freight train stopped near us, and members of the train crew came down to the shore with lanterns, offering assistance. They were told that their assistance was not needed. It was obvious that the boat could not sink, as she was firm on the rocks, but the women could not be convinced of this.

"When the Iroquoise came up she was made fast along the stern of the Mohawk."

HAD A FULL SUPPLY.

Officer Miller on Saturday afternoon found a young man named Henry Burman, of lower Fairfax county, helplessly drunk on the streets. He was conducted to the station house, where upon being searched, a quart and half a pint of whisky, in three bottles, was found in his pockets. Upon recovering from his libations, he left collateral for his appearance this morning in the Police Court, but was not present when his name was called.

SHIPPED TO OKLAHOMA

Plants Prepared and Seed Selected at S. E. Corner of King and Lee Streets

After several months preparation, during which time a large force has been employed in preparing plants and selecting seed, the exhibts of the Department of Agriculture have been shipped from the government warehouse here to Tulsa, Okla., where they will be exhibited at the International Dry Land Congress in that city. These exhibits have been prepared under the direction of Prof. F. Lamson Scribner. Martin M. Klein, who has charge of the warehouse in this city and who has attended all of the great exhibitions for the department, will leave here on Wednesday for Tulsa.

The government exhibit is very complete in all subjects which concern dry land farming. Seeds of all descriptions suitable for use in dry countries, mounted plants, in frames, 52 by 72 inches in size; 300 samples of different classes of soils; models of road making machinery and sections of road work; photographs and transparencies showing methods used in "dry farming," apparatus and maps used by the weather bureau, are among the exhibits.

The Tulsa Congress will be held from October 22 to 24th, and at its conclusion the government exhibits will be shipped to the Land Show which will be held in the Coliseum at Chicago.

Mr. Klein, who has made his home in Alexandria for the past three years, will return here at the conclusion of the show. People familiar with his duties found it hard to see how the United States department of agriculture could handle its extensive exposition exhibits without his services. He performs his indispensable duties under the unassuming title of "co-operative agent," but when it comes to unloading a mass of boxes, cases, shapeless bundles and indiscribable odds and ends from freight cars, and transforming the pile into an instructive, attractive and highly interesting exhibition of the many phases of the department's activity, Mr. Klein could almost fill the role of chief magician.

Martin M. Klein has been working with the department of agriculture since 1902, and in this time he has come to have an intimate acquaintance with both the outside and the inside innumerable boxes and cases in which the exhibit makes its journey from one exposition to another. He has been with the department's exhibits at most of the expositions in this country and in foreign nations during the past ten years, and is so well acquainted with the various nooks and corners of the world that he has had to stop and think when you ask him where his home is.

Mr. Klein is a German by birth, but has been in America for the past 32 years. He was in the American army in the Philippine Islands, and after receiving his discharge there became a nurse in a choleral hospital in the Philippines in 1902.

Mr. Klein got his first experience in handling the government's exhibits in 1904. In coming back to the states in that year, he was sent to Season tickets will be on sale at a number of stores. Single admission ten cents.

There will be entertainments each evening provided by the different churches of which further notices later. An entertainment will be given on Friday and Saturday afternoons, October 25th-26th, for children. Admittance five cents. All contributions sent me for special churches will be given as desired.

All cash contributions sent to me personally—will be acknowledged in name of donor—and turned in to hospital fund. It is with sincere regret on my part that the church people of St. Mary's refuse to cooperate with us in this good work. Also that the members of the Synagogue find it impossible to arrange to take charge of a Booth, but are working and promise substantial aid.

Respectfully Submitted.

Boneless Corsets

New Fall Corset models show the continued popularity of the so called boneless corseting, indicating its general prevalence with fashionable women. These models are not literally boneless, but they have as little boning as possible, which is not near as much as formerly considered essential.

German trico', soft brocade, and chamoisette are the materials selected for this type. The bones are placed in such a manner as to give every support, holding the figure softly and firmly in natural lines. Some of the newest models have the extra boning down the back to give the desired straight smooth line over the hips and back.

Another feature of a number of these Corsets is the elastic insert at bust or hip, allowing freedom of movement and perfect comfort, but suppressing the figure to the proper extent.

Prices range from $3.50 in the Plain Materials to $15 in the Brocade and Chamoisettes.

Beautiful ivy models of pink, blue, or white chamoisette, with very low bust and long straight lines, at $7.50 pair. Elastic waistline corsets for very slender figures at $3.00 to $7.50.

Virginia Conference of United Brethren Church Takes Action.

Roanoke, Va., Sept. 29.—At the afternoon session of the Virginia conference of the United Brethren Church, at 3 o'clock Friday, it was decided that the United Brethren Church would unite with the Methodist Protestant Church. The vote was 32 to 20. The question of the two churches joining together has been under consideration for several years. At the last general conference of the United Brethren Church, held in Decatur, Ill., last May, it was decided that the State conferences be allowed to put the matter to a vote. The real question before the conference here was the approval and adoption of the revised confession of faith as proposed by a joint commission from the two churches presented to the general conference at Decatur.

MAY FLY ACROSS ATLANTIC.

Bird-Man Garros Believes Achievement to be Possible.

Paris, Sept. 29.— Roland Garros, who on Tuesday made an aeroplane flight across the Mediterranean is quoted as saying a flight across the Atlantic Ocean is possible.

His plan would be to divide the journey into three stages, from England to Iceland; second, from Iceland to Newfoundland; third, from Newfoundland to the United States. Two of these stages would actually be shorter than his France-to-Tunis flight, and the third very little longer.

With properly arranged supply stations at the stopping points, the flight, he believes, would be quite realizable.

ALL READY FOR THE FAIRFAX FAIR.

There is every reason to believe that the Fairfax Fair this year will prove one of the most interesting exhibits ever witnessed hereabouts. A number of thrilling features are on the program, and people from all this section of the country will gather to inspect the products as well as to hear speeches which will be made by gentlemen of national reputation.

Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Hon. C. C. Carlin, Hon. Henry C. Stuart and Dr. Harvey W. Wiley are to make addresses. Other distinguished men will also be present and, it is expected, make speeches.

As is always the case, Alexandria will have a large representation at the fair, as the people of Alexandria city and Fairfax county have been virtually one since the days of Lord Fairfax. Originally Fairfax was the capital of Alexandria, which naturally blended the people, and while the offspring has endeavored in late years to absorb a part of the parent tree by annexation proceedings, the neighborly feeling which has always existed between the two communities has never been impaired.

It is hoped that as many Alexandrians as possible will be present at the Fairfax Fair this week and vie in making it the most successful exhibition ever given by our next-door neighbors.

Fairfaxians always enjoy coming to Alexandria when there are turnouts in this city, and there should be general reciprocity.

A PROGRESSIVE MOVEMENT.

The Roanoke Chamber of Commerce issues a call to the commercial organizations of other cities to send two representatives to a conference to be held in Roanoke October 15th to assist the League of Virginia Municipalities, which meets there at that time, in formulating A commission form of government plan for submission to the next legislature and also to organize a State Chamber of Commerce to aid in Virginia's development. The call sets forth the facts "that while Virginia is progressing splendidly we are not doing what we might or what we should concertedly, as compared with other States, especially when Virginia's idle acres her climate and her vast resources are considered." All of which is quite true.

Mr. Norman Roberts who has been quite sick at his home on Queen street for the past week, is able to be out again.

the exposition at Portland, Ore., with the department's exhibit. Following this event he went with the exhibit to the Jamestown Exposition, the Seattle Exposition and then to the National Corn Exposition held in Omaha, Nebraska. After this he was sent with the exhibit to the exposition at Buenos Aires. Coming back to New York, the exhibit was divided, and Mr. Klein went to the New England Corn Exposition with one portion, at Worcester, Mass. From there he went with an exhibit to the land show at Chicago, and then took another foreign trip, this time to the exposition at Turin, Italy.

Returning to this country a year ago last December, Mr. Klein went with the exhibit to the Dry Land Farming Exposition at Lethbridge, Canada, and from there he was sent with the exhibit to the land show, again at Chicago.

TURBULENT SESSION ENDS.

So-Called Law Enforcements Bill Still on Calendar of Tennessee House.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 29.—The turbulent extra session of the Tennessee General Assembly ended last week with three of the so-called law enforcement bills still on the calendar of the House. These bills, designed to make less difficult the enforcement of liquor laws were the subject of stormy debate and by a filibuster conducted by regular Democrats were prevented from coming to a vote in the House, after they had been passed by the Senate. Both House and Senate passed a bill providing for the substitution of electric chair for the gallows.

Governor Hooper sent a message to the House indicating his inclination to call another extra session for consideration of "law enforcement" bills alone.

In contrast with the scenes on the floor of the House at the first of the week, when charges of the presence of gunmen threatened a riot, the close of the session was marked by jocular speech making and singing.

Governor Hatfield, of West Virginia, permitted S. G. U. Rhoades, a legislator convicted of bribery, and in jail at Orlando, W. Va, to attend the funeral of his son, Joseph Rhoades, who had committed suicide.

TITANIC BUILT BY ATHEIST.

Motto "No God—No Pope", in Hull Says Brooklyn Man.

New York, Sept. 29.—That the man who made the hull of the Titanic believed neither in God nor religion, and that he had carved into the hull of the ill-fated ship in which he afterwards perished, the motto:

"No God—No Pope,' is the statement made by Frank McKee, of Grand Avenue, who returned to Brooklyn a few days ago from a trip to Ireland, where he first heard the matter spoken of.

"The carving of the motto in the steel of the hull was below the waterline,' 'said Mr. McKee. "It was visible only when the ship was in drydock,but it was there, nevertheless. The man who made the carving was on board the Titanic at the time of the crash and perished."

The story, Mr. McKee added, is credible, as it appears to be common knowledge on the other side.

Mr. McKee visited county Armagh and parts of England and Scotland. He had many interesting comments to make on his experiences.

WANTS CHURCH UNION.

Cardinal Gibbons Says, However, Time is Not Ripe.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 29.—Cardinal Gibbons, in an interview yesterday, expressed the fervent hope that a union of all Christian churches under one head might intimately be brought about and predicted that such a union would result in wonderful advances of civilization.

Among other things the Cardinal said:

"The reunion of the scattered branches of Christiandom is a consumation devoutly to be wished, and I would gladly sacrifice the remaining years of my life in lending a helping hand toward the blessed result.

"The first essential requirement," he continued, "is the recognition of the sovereign pontiff, the successor of St. Peter, divinely appointed head of Christiandom. Every organization, whether religious, civil, or political, needs a head for its peace and security, as well as for its very existence.

"Once the proper position of the Pope is recognized, I do not believe that the other controverted doctrines are as formidable as is commonly imagined. When a proper explanation is given of the various dogmas upon which Christianity is founded, I am persuaded that the logical sense of the people would prompt them to accept.

"And if the various Christian dominations of the United States were once united, working with one heart and one spirit, what a wonderful influence our Christian forces would exert in the civilization and the Christianizing of mankind! What amazing things would then be done for society and humanity!

"But devoutly as we wish for such a union," continued the cardinal," we must wait for the conscience of the individual to bring about a state when union becomes possible. There are three courts—the civil tribunal, the criminal tribunal, and the court of conscience. And under the last of these, until soul demands, until, in a word, such a moment arrives, the time is not ripe."

SUICIDE OF A SALESMAN.

Fires Bullet Through Roof of Mouth Into Brain.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 29.—Marion Saunders, thirty-five years old, who for the past few weeks has been employed as a salesman for a soup company, killed himself in a room in the Atlantic Hotel shortly after 7 o'clock Friday night by firing a bullet through the roof of his mouth into his brain.

Several men who have been with Saunders in the past few days said that he had been drinking considerably. On the table in his room were found two empty whisky bottles, numerous half-smoked cigarettes and his clothing scattered about the room.

Killed With a Shotgun.

Robert Miller was killed with a shotgun during a quarrel at Athens, W. Va., Thursday night. The alleged slayer is Lee Legg. Miller in 1908 shot Miss Julia Whitaker, who was made thereby a helpless cripple. Miller fled, but was captured a year ago and brought back for trial.

During the trial an attorney for the State began an argument in the absence of the prisoner, which nullified the verdict of unlawful wounding which had been brought in by the jury and a new trial was ordered. When the case was called in April, important witnesses could not be found, having left the State, and Miller was acquitted.

D. J. KAUFMAN M.S.M. GLOVES

The House of BERBERICH wants to emphasize the fact that the D. J. KAUFMAN guarantee of "Money's Worth or Money Back" goes with every pair of these gloves just as though you bought them direct from D. J. KAUFMAN, 1005-1007 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Selling nothing but guaranteed footwear themselves, the House of BERBERICH picked this M.S.M. ("Man's Store Make") glove from the entire field and likewise vouches for their full "money's worth."

KING ROWSER 10c CIGAR

Because the manufacturer, W. A. HALL, 7th and Pennsylvania Avenue, guarantees the satisfaction of every box of his 10c KING ROWSER Cigar is the reason this high grade smoke was selected by the House of BERBERICH,
